Tribute from George Pope

Relation: School friend

Andrew was a fellow pupil at Campbeltown Grammar School, Argyll, Scotland. He was in my "house", I was the Captain of the "house" and our name was Knockscalbert and our badges were red. Andrew was known as "Rhino" for he would charge into any situation, if he thought he was right. He dated Patricia Scott, who sadly passed away from cancer, many years later. Andrew was in Knockscalbert's cross country team as was I. He wasn't the quickest, but he was dogged and helped gain us victories against other schools. I often wondered where he ended up in life - now I know. I have only good memories of Andrew, as do all the people from Campbeltown, who knew him.
