Tribute from Maxine Macgillivray

Relation: dear old friend

Just by chance I googled Mort today and saw that he had died recently. I guess I must have felt his loss some where inside me. I wish I had been able to say goodbye to him in person but with Covid that may not have been possible anyway. He was an important person in my life as meeting him when I was 22 determined the rest of my life because I ended up meeting the father of my child through him and thus most of my friends in Montreal were through him. I lived with him and his family on a commune in Hemmingford and on the same street in the Plateau after that. It was because he moved out to Saltspring that my son and later I moved to Vancouver Island. Many, many memories. I extend my deepest condolences to his children Josh, Yoshi and Chaya. I know they will miss him deeply. He never looked back and kept moving forward. Now his life has ended, I hope for you that you can all move forward with only the best memories.

Tribute from Felicity Fanjoy

Relation: I knew him many years ago through numerous mutual friends, in particular at the National Film Board.

So sorry to hear of Mort's passing. I remember him as a man who exuded joy and good humour and lifted the spirits of everyone around him. I know he will be dearly missed.
